

Virtual Gaming Tour Funsheet!

» The Dawn of Computing

What's the earliest recognised computer game?

What media is the OXO game written on?

» To the text adventures!

Why didn't early text adventures have graphics?

We have free workshops showing you how to do create your own text adventures using Twine on our CCH Learning Youtube channel!

» To the Game Zone!

Ralf Baer designed the first recognised home console, the Magnavox Odyssey.

Who copied Magnavox and made the Pong arcade machines and consoles?

How much did a game of Pong cost at the arcade?

Who made the first colour console?

Which country are the VCS, Intellivision, and Colecovision all from?

» To the Arcades!

Where you might have used an arcade machine?

» To the 80's Micros!

Can you add the numbers to these computer names?

Atari _ _ _ , ZX _ _ , TI- _ _

The Commodore 64 and ZX Spectrum were the most popular home computers for gaming in the 80's. Did any of your family play games on one of these?

Who are famous 'bedroom coders'?

» Back to the Game Zone!

What was the name of the Japanese version of the Nintendo Entertainment System?

What did Nintendo do before they made video games?

What did Sega do before they made video games?

Why did the Sega Master System have two different formats (both cartridge and card)?

Where is the Amstrad GX4000 from?

What's the American name of the Mega Drive?

» To the handhelds!

Which company made the Game Boy?

And who made the Game Gear?

» Back to the consoles!

What did the planned CD add-on for the Super Nintendo Entertainment System eventually become?

What did the Panasonic 3DO not have enough of?

What natural disaster happened in Japan near the Nintendo 64 launch?

What feature helped the PlayStation2's huge success?

Microsoft made the Xbox in 2002. Which computer operating system are they also known for?

Thank you for coming to our virtual tour! We hope you had fun, and see you again soon!